

3D-ultrasound sweeps of the
fetal brain

EEG-data

sMRI & fMRI
data

Need data
for child
developmental research?

>
2.500
babies

>
1.350
children

Eyetracking-
data

Biomaterial
from children
and their parents

Behavioural
and cognitive measurements

Almost every questionnaire
you can think of YOUth data are accessible through managed access and are provisionally free of charge

www.uu.nl / youthcohort

Need data for child developmental research?

YOUth provides an extensive longitudinal data set on brain and behavioral development from two cohorts. YOUth fosters open, sustainable research with large sample sizes: data are available for GDPR-compliant use in research through safe, managed access. Requesting data is simple: submit your proposal and select the data you request with just a few clicks via our online data request system.

YOUth is an initiative of the Utrecht University and the UMC Utrecht

www.uu.nl / youthcohort

